Luke Scarchilli

Luke Scarchilli is the Director of Customer Success at Sandler by Winning Process, where he partners with business owners, sales leaders, and professionals throughout Upstate New York to improve sales performance, leadership, and customer service. Luke has 10+ years of experience in coaching, training, and behavioral assessments to help individuals and organizations build the systems, habits, and accountability needed to achieve long-term success. Luke earned his Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from The Catholic University of America and is DISC Certified.